LOCATION, Etc.

COTLAND NECK, on the Scotland Neck and Kinston Railroad, is situated on the divide between the Roanoke and Tar rivers, and is therefore a healthy locality, singularly exempt from epidemics.

The Academy building, on the site of the old building of 1810, is conveniently situated on a wide and beautifully shaded street, within a short distance of all the churches. It contains study room, three recitation rooms, four music rooms, office, studio and gymnasium.

The boarding house adjoining is under the supervision of the Principal. The school is well equipped with musical instruments kept in order by Hume, Minor & Co., of Richmond, Va., also well furnished with charts, etc.

The school year is divided into two terms beginning respectively last Monday in August and second Monday in January. Pupils will be received at any time and charged from date of admission. It is of great importance that they should enter the first day of the session. No deductions for absence or withdrawal except for satisfactory reasons.

Besides frequent reviews, there will be examinations, oral and written, principally written, at the close of each quarter, on the result of which depends the advancement of students to higher classes. Reports will be sent to parents showing as nearly as possible the average grade of daily recitations, examinations, and general deportment of pupils.

SCHOOL OF ELOCUTION.

Elocution is taught upon the Delsarte system. The course embraces: Voice Culture, Training to secure control of breath and flexibility of tone; Gesture; Articulation; Study of Selections. Readings and recitations from the best authors are given throughout the course.

SCHOOL OF PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Exercises are given for developing and strengthening the muscles, and for flexibility of body and grace of movement.

SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES.

The course in Latin comprises Grammar, Selections from different authors, Cæsar's Gallic War, three books of Virgil's Æneid, and the orations of Cicero. Written exercises are given throughout the course.

The French course is comprehensive, extending from oral instruction and object teaching to the study of Classics and Literature.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

*This department is under the charge of a pupil of Prof. Courlaender, Peabody Institute, Baltimore.

Music pupils are not taught in classes, but each receives from the teacher individual training, as is best suited to her. During one month in each year all pupils engage in ensemble playing.

ART.

The Art teacher is a member of the Chautauqua Society of Fine Arts and a pupil of Mr. Ernest Knaufft, New York. The work in the Studio is from still-life, casts, and from the living model.

Every pupil is required to study spelling throughout the course
